

DOGWOOD ROAD

Modern Traditional Irish Music

Tyler Moore (fiddle, mandolin, vocals) and Karl Wohlwend (guitar) are long-time collaborators and veterans of America’s Irish music scene. As members of the bands Homeland, Knot Fibb’n, and Two2Many, they toured throughout the US, playing in pubs, concert halls, and festivals in a dozen states. They appear on at least ten full-length CD recordings and perform regularly at the Dublin Irish Festival in Dublin, Ohio. Tyler and Karl first performed together in the Ohio-based Two2Many in 2012 and spun off as a duo act in 2014. Audiences describe the Dogwood Road sound as “modern trad.” They bring the wealth of their varied experiences to bear in their approach to traditional music—melding the inventive spirit of the past with the innovations of today. Dogwood Road features high-energy jigs and reels, fun arrangements of traditional songs, and an emerging repertory of original music.

Dogwood Road releases, Dogwood Road, their first album as a duo, on November 2, 2019.
